REVOLT IS QUELLED; SOVIETS STILL RULE

HOOPER'S AIM IS SERVICE, UPRISINGS IN MOSCOW, NOT MILITARY; MORE IN NATURE OF TRADES UNION STRIKES

LAST-DITCH FIGHT ON. Union Appeal Now With Harding.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The future of the Department of Commerce in its abilities to meet the needs of trade and industry must await the "thorough organization of the whole legislative machinery," now being undertaken by the joint Congressional reorganization committee, Secretary Hoover said today.

The declaration was made in a statement in which Mr. Hoover announced the policy of his department to be one of service, and not of "regulation of trade and industry." Outside of voluntary measures, he said that the only immediate extension of service would be in the obtaining of greater internal efficiency.

"In order to do service to the greatest advantage," he said, "it is necessary to have a better organized co-operation with the trade and commercial organizations, and will present some plans to this end. I want to see our efforts to push our foreign commerce more closely related to our industries."

Such enlarged activity, he declared, was within the original purpose of his department. Further, he said, the necessity had been declared of new work were discredited on the ground of "economy," need of reorganization and reduction of less essential.

Touching on the necessity of more efficient governmental machinery, he said that the necessity had been emphasized by war-created economic difficulties.

The United States, he contended, must face for many years competition resulting from a lower standard of living in Europe, which will mean lower production costs there. To meet this competition and maintain its high standard of living, he declared, the country must be reorganized.

Harding, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, appeared at the White House this afternoon, seeking an audience with the President to present a memorandum concerning the right of the Chicago packers to reduce the wages and increase the hours of labor of their 100,000 employees.

The President had left the executive office to receive the diplomatic corps, but Mr. Harding was admitted to the White House by Mr. Morrison, who said he would lay it before the President.

Mr. Harding's visit to the White House, he said, was in connection with the Omaha telegram of the packers' union, protesting against the declared wages.

Mr. Christian said afterward that the Omaha telegram reached the White House today, but had not been considered by the President.

From the White House Mr. Morrison proceeded to the Department of Labor, where he talked with Secretary Davis, concerning the initiation of government mediation between the packers and their employees.

Mr. Davis said that the mediation machinery would be set in motion if a strike should be ordered by the packer union.

In his memorandum for the consideration of the President, Morrison asserted that the packers in reducing wages and lengthening hours of labor, are proceeding in open violation of the request of the Department of Labor, which has urged the packers to submit all differences with their employees to arbitration.

Mr. Morrison said that the packers' union, in its memorandum, had requested that the packers be permitted to remain in effect during the war, but it was continued after the war, and it was continued after the war, and it was continued after the war.

PREDICT GERMANY'S END. Bankers Believe France is Intent on Ruining the Fatherland.

BERLIN, March 10.—German bankers are exceedingly pessimistic over Germany's future, regarding the situation now as even worse than it was a year ago. Reports from the Rhine region indicate a similar depression in circles there. In the words of one Berlin banker the present is the beginning of the end for Germany, for it holds no hope of a better future.

The expected damage to German business interests by the Allied invasion is incalculable, but we can do nothing to change the course of events," said one of the leading bankers of this city.

"France demanded quite impossible reparations sums. Our refusal to underwrite them was the only possible course. France is bent upon ruining Germany and we can only fold our hands and await developments. Some hopeful persons believe that a few months will suffice to convince France that reparations cannot be collected by force and she will then seek compromise. But they assume that France's main object is to obtain money, whereas her still dearer object is to destroy Germany."

FEARS REVOLT IN PETROGRAD WAS PREMATURE. BOSTON, March 10.—Fear that the counter-revolution in Petrograd was premature was expressed today in an address by Sir Paul Dukes, former member of the British secret service. He said that the last outbreak ceased only four months ago, and that while in one way it might be a hopeful sign that the new revolt should have occurred so early, as showing how ripe the anti-Bolshevik movement is, on the other hand, he considered four months too short a time to organize a revolution.

The twelve men who will pass judgment on Clara Smith's guilt or innocence for the most part are men this side of middle life. Four gray heads are among them, three appear under 25, while the others are in their forties. The majority of the jurors live in Ardmore. When the afternoon session was resumed there were only elderly men in the jury box.

The New York Central preceding Federal control satisfactorily maintained harmonious and satisfactory relations with a loyal and efficient force of high-class workers. It now proposes to eliminate the gross evils which have been imposed upon it through the unprecedented events of the past few years and get back to management in harmony with correct business practices in behalf of the traveling and shipping public—the utmost of good railway service at the lowest possible price.

MANGY HEAVY LOOMING UP.

Roberts Keeps Climbing
the Fistic Ladder.

Attracting Attention by His Recent Victories.

Will Probably Take on Roper
of Chicago Again.

NEW YORK, March 10.—While Roberts, the heavy heavyweight
champion, was hopping up
the fistic ladder to renewed glory, the other side of the Atlantic was working to pugilistic objects. The boxer was not able to make the grade against the champion, and probably has been for the last time in the prize fight.

Roberts is attracting considerable attention in the East just now as a result of his victories over Bob Combs and Smith and the unknown Micky Shannon. Billy Roberts, who, together with watching
the interests of Champion Roberts, is devoting much of his time to the hard-hitting advance.

NUGENT WRITES PLAYS.

TELL HOW TO GIVE PAINLESS IMPROMPTU TALKS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Talking isn't nearly so easy a feat as you think, take it from no less an authority than J. C. Nugent, conversation expert, who talks while you wait as a were, down at the Orpheum this week. He speaks extemporaneously on any subject suggested by a member of the audience, without a moment's notice.

This is a new stunt to Nugent's, and an entirely new stunt to the stage. He says he thought it up all by himself one night at the Lambs Club, back in New York, following an informal discussion of a variety of questions by members of the club at one of the dinner tables.

It was no longer ago than five weeks that he gave the matter a try, up in Canada, and was surprised at the result so far as public interest is concerned. The longer he does the stunt, the easier it becomes, as one learns to marshal one's wits very quickly after a while. The very hardest subject he has tackled so far is "The Silurian Period."

He had never felt any pressing need to know about the Silurian period nor did it arouse any warm enthusiasm when suggested. However, he happened to remember some striking remarks that had once been made to him by a college professor whom he knew, on meeting the latter on the street, and he fished around in his memory and dug up the information. He says he guesses he got it all right, because nobody laughed, or at any rate there wasn't anybody in the audience who knew more about it than he did.

Nugent, who is the author of the vaudeville sketches in which he has appeared on the Orpheum Circuit, has completed two plays, which he expects to have produced in New York next fall.

Blossom Seeley Weds.

Our own Blossom Seeley just can't make her synopsized heart behave. Having been divorced from the Marquard with natural attendant publicity, a few months ago. She married now again, according to announcement.

Miss Seeley's current husband is Bonnie Fields, her dancing partner, whose soul, it seems, is as much in tune with her own as are his. She is again en route to the Orpheum here.

On their previous visit, it will be remembered, Miss Seeley was hardly able to work the day she got word that she had fractured an ankle, but apparently the sorrow quickly faded.

Philharmonic Announces Bookings.

The management of the Philharmonic Auditorium, which states its endeavoring to present only the biggest of spectacles, grand opera, dance carnivals, and dramatic productions, announced yesterday a new departure in booking arrangements for the next season, which season starts the middle of this month, to continue throughout the year.

Included in the productions which will be shown are the Al Jolson "Sings" show, with cuts from which played New York for three years, the much talked of "Aphrodite" produced by Morris Greer, which was a sensation in New York last season, and the "Greenwich Village Follies," which opens Monday night, March 21.

JESSE LASKY TELLS PLANS OF COMPANY.

Just one month more of western sunshine, or at least intermittent sunshine, (with apologies to the Chamber of Commerce and Frank Wiggins) and Jesse Lasky will depart for New York. The reason for Mr. Lasky's constant commuting is that both eastern and western studios are very busy.

He received a letter yesterday from J. M. Barrie, in which the famous author, who is scheduled to come here in July personally to superintend the picture production of "Peter Pan," asks that his visit be postponed until fall. However, Mr. Lasky intends to be firm in the matter, because of the "Peter Pan" is causing more discussion than any picture ever produced by his company, and naturally he wants to strike while the iron is hot.

It seems that every actress in the world wants to play "Peter Pan," says Mr. Lasky. One of the applicants is Georgette Cohan, daughter of George M. Cohan, who appeared in the part in London. She will be given a test.

Whoever does the role will be a lucky lady. Tests of applicants desiring to play the part are under way now at the Lasky studios, both East and West, and the results of these will be sent to Mr. Barrie, who, of course, with advice and information from the Lasky heads, will be the final arbiter in the matter.

Mr. Barrie has completed and forwarded the scenario of "Peter Pan" and it is so beautiful it should be published, declares Mr. Lasky.

Dorothy Dalton, Mr. Lasky informed her yesterday, has just arrived from New York to play the lead in Cecil De Mille's next production, the name of which is not yet announced.

Another interesting bit of news is to the effect that Janice Kirkwood will play the lead in George Melford's next picture, which is to be a film version of E. Phillips Oppenheim's "The Great Impersonation."

It looks as though Mr. Melford were in for a busy season, inasmuch as Sir Gilbert Parker is also writing an original, which Melford will produce as a screen play. And by the way, Melford's "The Faith Dealer," is attracting as much attention in New York as did "The Miracle Man."

Sprightly Charmers of the Comedy.

RUSSIAN DANCES.

THEODORE BEKEFI IN PROGRAM AT AMBASSADOR.

By Edwin Schallert.

With the eerie seductive tones of the balalaika as an occasional accompaniment, and picturesque Russian costumes giving national color to his performance, Theodore Bekefi presented a lyrical program of the dance last evening at the Ambassador Hotel. This, the fourth event of the concert series being given under the direction of Adolph Tandler and Jessica Colbert, attracted by far the largest audience.

The work of Bekefi is not unknown to this city, I believe, because he appeared some seasons ago on the Orpheum circuit. The quality of his presentations is in their rhythmic and swift movement. In particular are his rapid pirouettes, which are introduced with a nervous energy that is the essence of grace, yet that is not perfect grace. It is a certain Slavic vigor about even his most delicate movements. Yet this is never more than a background for a very highly developed technique.

Mr. Bekefi's dance productions are of no great moment in their drama. In fact, in the program last night, he seemed to aim for the pure divertissement throughout. A contrast to this would have been acceptable, although a compromise was effected by the introduction of vocal numbers, and a kaleidoscopic changing of costumes and types of dances.

These dances introduced beside Bekefi, himself, his wife and several pupils, among them Carrie Smith and Miss Louise Franklin-Cline.

Miss Sonya Zarilova sang a group of characteristic Russian numbers and an aria from "A Life for the Tsar," by Glinka, while Constantine Baklanoff gave Schubert's "Ave Maria" as a cello solo and also played for the minutes danced by Mr. Bekefi and Miss Franklin-Cline.

The musical accompaniment for some of the dances were deficient and the rendition of the selections and the rendition.

Tangle in "Legit."

Rumors are circulating through local theatrical circles concerning the possibility of a large withdrawal of stock from the "Legit" companies as a result of an order issued by the Equity Association. This order requires members of the equity to refuse to play in any organizations which contain nonmembers of the equity.

A large number of companies managed by George M. Cohan and the theatrical firm of Miller & Bates are likely to be affected, according to local theatrical men. It is possible that the present schedule of attractions that is to play here in the near future is apparently feeling the influence of the move, however. The Marjorie Rambeau company, which is to open here next week, will not be affected, it is said.

NEW CHRISTIE STARS.

Final plans for the new Junior Orpheum, to be built on Eighth and Hill streets, were approved yesterday by J. J. Backus, building inspector. Work on the theater is expected to forward now with all possible haste. G. Albert Lansburgh, architect, left for San Francisco early today to make final touches on the specifications and plans, and the construction.

Insurrection Films.

Pictures of the Harding inauguration are being flashed on practically all screens in the downtown theaters.

Overseas Revue Girl.

Elizabeth Brice, who made a large and influential hit with her Overseas Revue last season, will return as headlined in a new entertainment next week at the Orpheum.

Regular Police Show.

Since Peggy Hamilton began to select her models for the California Theater fashion revue, the mezzanine floor of the theater looks like a rehearsal time at the Ziegfeld Follies. There has been a huge in vogue by all blondes, brunettes and titian-haired beauties, anxious to doll up in the style parade.

Mutual Courtesies.

A hundred members of the California Opera Company were guests of the Miller Theater management at a showing of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." As a return compliment, members of the cast of the Yankee will be guests of the opera organization at the Iolanthe performance this evening. The film colony has been largely represented, it is said, at the Auditorium.

"Kid" to Hold Over.

As was to be expected, arrangements have been made to hold over Charlie Chaplin's picture "The Kid" for a second week at the Kinema Theater. The crowd attending this film have literally been blocking traffic on Grand avenue.

Ingram Returning.

Rex Ingram, director of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" now showing at the Mission Theater, is returning to Los Angeles. He will probably commence work shortly on another special for Metro.

Open House at "U" City.

Universal City is to be thrown open to the public for two days, Saturday and Sunday, the reason being to enable visitors to watch and take part in the making of a motion picture. On the famous "back stages" just a short distance from the Monte Carlo sets, there is a circus tent where universal players will put on a real circus while the cameras grind. The story is "The Man Tamer," in which Gladys Walton is starred. The performance from the seats free of charge, it is stated.

"Forbidden Fruit" Next.

Cecil De Mille's production of "Forbidden Fruit" will have its first showing beginning Sunday at Grauman's Rialto. This is another of the director's adroit studies of social life.

"The Inside of the Cup," now in the final days of its run, continues to attract favor.

Miss Rambeau at Mason.

A popular week is assured at the Mason beginning Monday, next, through the presence of Marjorie Rambeau at the house. Miss Rambeau is to appear in Channing Pollock's play, "The Sign on the Door." Her supporting cast will include Lee Baker, Harry Minton, Harold Salt, Hugh Dillman, Beatrice Allen and others.

Woman's Orchestra.

With that brilliant pianist Brahms van den Berg as soloist, the Women's Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Henry Schoenfeld, present a concert of special interest Monday evening at the Ambassador Hotel. This is their second program of the season, and they reveal a gain both in resources and the quality of their work. Mr. Van den Berg achieved a notable impression in the Grieg concerto, both through his technical skill and his dramatic interpretation.

Mr. Schoenfeld's composition, an Air for the G String, given by the violin ensemble, was practically alone and lyrically very attractive. The orchestra also played effectively the overture to "Iphigenia in Aulis" by Gluck and the Slavic Dances by Dvorak.

WILLIAMS STARTS NEW STAGE AT STUDIO.

Louis R. Mayer was host yesterday to J. D. Williams, general manager of Associated First National Pictures, Inc., which organization releases the productions made under the Mayer banner.

Work having just begun on the new stage which will make an important addition to the Mayer plant, Mr. Williams was the inspiration for a little informal "nail hitting" ceremony. He drove the first spike to be used in the erection of the new stage. He was "promoted" by Anita Stewart, Edwin Carewe, John M. Stahl, Barbara Castleton and many of the players and staff of the Mayer organization.

Williams expressed himself as well pleased with the national success of the recent Mayer productions and predicted that Anita Stewart's contribution to the First National "Big Five" would stand out as one of the biggest successes of the year.

NEW VITAGRAPH EXCHANGE.

To carry out his plan to house every exchange in its own modern fireproof building, John M. Quinn, general manager of Vitagraph, Inc., the distributing organization, has arrived in Los Angeles from New York. Before returning East he will arrange for the construction of a Los Angeles Vitagraph exchange building. The present local exchange is at 643 South Olive street, with C. J. Marley as the branch manager. Vitagraph, Inc., has just finished new buildings in Chicago, Philadelphia, Dallas, Oklahoma City and Seattle. Mr. Quinn will spend a few days at his studios in connection with Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, who has been here for the past two months.

NEW WAR HEAD A DIRECT MAN.

Correspondent Says Weeks is Great Contrast to Baker.

Promises to Give the News as It Happens.

Has Been Hard Worker and is Keeping It Up.

BY "EYEWITNESS."
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—"Are you the dean?"

"No, Mr. Secretary."

"Well, you ought to be,"
John W. Weeks was speaking to good old Matt Tighe of the snow-
white that, who stood in the front line of the new War Minister's first conference in the War Department with the Washington
correspondents.

He moved his eyes from Mr.
Tighe's William Winter countenance, which seemed to interest him,
and briefly took in the whole group
with a gaze not unfriendly, but by no means placatory.

"Now, gentlemen," he said, "you can depend on me all the time to tell you everything I can every day. If I can't talk about it, that and it." It hardly is necessary to add that John W. Weeks is direct.

A GREAT CONTRAST.
Those who, knowing him long,
have a right to use a stronger word,
say he is for the right. In that a tribute to directness, he is an emphatic contrast to Baker.

Weeks' promise to the correspondents about "everything every day"
is very different from Baker's way,
which was either to avoid telling
anything by droning "I can't discuss that," or to tell the men what he thought was a funny story.

Mr. Weeks stood with half-smoked cigar between the first two fingers of his left hand as he talked,
and with a soft woolen hat crumpled
in his right. He might have been speaking as the Mayor of Newton, Mass., which he twice was, after
he had been Alderman three years.
His eyes, a shade austere at first,

became pleasant enough as he answered, mostly with "I don't know," and "It isn't decided," a swift patter of questions about Gen.
Wood's mission to the Philippines.
Having shown them away, he said:
"I have an appointment with the President at 3 o'clock. It is 3 now.
Some of the matters you have been asking about are to be taken up. I must go."

NOT A POLITICIAN.
Weeks' tone is level, correct and unemotionalized; the utterance always precise and the sentence short.
He has none of the routine effusiveness
of the politician wanting to be liked.

He is the shining dome of Denby
and Daugherty and the kind of dignity that gets itself respected without assertion of it. He would be mannerly to you and expect the same. I heard him described as a "typical Bostonian," but as I have heard the same about every Bostonian the description does not go very far as a definition. Thus far I have heard the other routine phrase "Essentially a business man,"
which may mean nothing or nothing.
It is exact as applied to this man, who has a good deal of subdued polish
to his personality and much un-
flustered Yankee vision in his deeds.
After only four years in the House
he put through the $240,000,000
postal bill. That was bigger money in 1909 than it is now, and Weeks's
bill was so perfect that it went through the Senate just as written by him.

He also wrote and managed the passage of the bill creating the postal savings branch of the Postoffice Department. That took vision of the kind that both men and imparts.

LOOKS LIKE BANKER.
Weeks is 61 and does not look it.
If you did not know his profession
you would say he was a banker, and you would be partly right. He was once. He once said to Jim Morrow: "I went into banking when I didn't know the difference between a right draft and a promissory note."

But he was a success at that, just as he has been at everything he ever went into, except the time he wanted to be President of the United States.
The Republican convention of 1916
gave him 105 votes, and that was
as far as he got.

As for banking, he sold out to his partners eight years ago when he was elected to the Senate. Besides banker he has been farm boy,
country school-teacher, midshipman,
Alderman, Mayor, United States Representative and Senator, (fourteen years of those last two), and now has a program far from as bounce-

ing as Denby's naval program, but spacious enough to insure safety.
"We should not build a Navy so overwhelming large as to compel
other nations to keep up to a degree
beyond their resources," he said.
"We, the richest country in the world, should not set such a pace."
If you want the story of John Winkate Weeks's boyhood amid the New England hills, read Charles Dudley Warner's "Being a Boy." It is all there, even to the boiling of sap in the maple grove. John Weeks
did that when he was a boy of 13
and got half a ton of sugar, that was a success and some syrup that he couldn't make crystallize. Even the pictures in the old editions of
"Being a Boy" fit what John Weeks
did.

A HARD WORKER.
From boyhood on he seems to have been a careful, expeditious, hard working sort of man, growing easily and competently into the sort of
man who was not so much a speculating dominant man as a direct
man, gravitating always to leadership and getting himself accepted,
before he quite knew it, for a man
of great judgment and capacity for organization. He calls that drifting which, of course, it is not.

Speaking of his Ann Arbor days,
which failed to make his career
in the navy, he said: "I was drifting then, and have been drifting at intervals ever since, taking whatever offers, if worth while, and doing
it as well as possible."

Mrs. Weeks would not call his method drifting. When she was asked to describe his method, she said that in several cases the field
of available was narrowing down,
the nearest approach to a choice is
understood to be Myron T. Herrick
of Ohio, for Ambassador to France,
a post from which he resigned early
in the first Wilson administration.
Another who is certain to return to
the service is Henry Lane Wilson,
former Ambassador to Mexico, who
is mentioned most often for the Am-
bassadorship to Italy.

MEXICAN PROBLEM.
The question of Mexican relations
hinges on the ability of the new administration of President Obregon to establish a regime which will win
American recognition. It is possible pointed intimations may go soon to Mexico City. Much as the White House and the State Department
hope for a full restoration of diplomatic relations, there is little evidence of confidence that a formal recognition may be possible in the near future.

President Harding discussed the Mexican problem today with R. B.
Creager of Texas, who has been suggested for Ambassador to Mexico.
Later Mr. Creager talked with undersecretary of State Fletcher, former Ambassador to Mexico.

TROOPS ON RHINE.
The situation of the American
troops on the Rhine is one which
has been brought forcibly to the attention of the new President by the Allied advance into Germany. The only announcement has been that
the State and War Departments were
in accord with the policy of the previous administration, in so far as it
provided for nonparticipation in the Allied advance, and that on the other
hand, withdrawal of the American

HARDING BUSY WITH PROBLEMS

Selection of Diplomats is in the Forefront.

Field of Available is Narrowing Down.

Mexican Relations Hinge on Obregon's Actions.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—As the new administration settles down to a working basis, both President Harding and his chief advisers are giving increasing attention to the country's foreign relations.

Selection of diplomat representatives abroad, relations with Mexico,
the Rhine situation, the League of Nations and the Panama-Costa Rican controversy are subjects in the forefront.

So far as diplomatic appointments
are concerned it was said unauthoritatively selections had not been made,
but that in several cases the field
of available was narrowing down.
The nearest approach to a choice is
understood to be Myron T. Herrick
of Ohio, for Ambassador to France,
a post from which he resigned early
in the first Wilson administration.
Another who is certain to return to
the service is Henry Lane Wilson,
former Ambassador to Mexico, who
is mentioned most often for the Am-
bassadorship to Italy.

TROOPS ON RHINE.
The situation of the American
troops on the Rhine is one which
has been brought forcibly to the attention of the new President by the Allied advance into Germany. The
only announcement has been that
the State and War Departments were
in accord with the policy of the previous administration, in so far as it
provided for nonparticipation in the Allied advance, and that on the other
hand, withdrawal of the American

army was not immediately under consideration.
Officials are in close touch with developments, however, and a more definite policy probably will be predicted upon them in the next few weeks.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.
Related somewhat to the Rhine
situation is the question of American participation in a modified League of Nations. Today's dispatches from Paris, saying that the French Embassy here was reported to have approached the State Department on the subject, were the first public intimations that negotiations regarding the League had been received,
and the general attitude of officials
indicated conversations had not yet
passed the preliminary stage.

There was every evidence, however, that such a move by the Paris
government would fit in with President Harding's notions of how the subject should be approached. It has been the understanding among those close to the President that he not only has hoped for a frank expression from the other governments, but has planned to feel them out informally. If the expectations of some administration officials are fulfilled, a considerable period of informal conversations will ensue before actual diplomatic interchanges
are reached.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM
REVEALED BY LEGION.

COMMANDER CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT; BERGDOFF
ONE BOHEE THEY WANT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—The American Legion's legislative program for the special session of Congress was outlined today to President Harding by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the Legion, who said the President was impressed by the necessity of making more adequate provision for war
veterans, especially disabled men.

Mr. Galbraith expressed the belief that the administration would give wholehearted support to the Legion's plans, which included provision for the grouping of all government soldier relief agencies into one bureau and a continuous hospital-building program.

The Legion, he said, also will ask that veterans receiving vocational training, be given adequate compensation.

The matter of securing the return
from Germany of Grover C. Berg-doff, draft evader, was not discussed
with the President, Mr. Galbraith said. At the proper time, however,
he added, the question will be brought to the attention of the administration.

"He's one Bohee we want," he said.

HARDING WANTS TO RUSH LEGISLATION.

WOULD HAVE CONGRESS MEET
AS SOON AS POSSIBLE
AFTER APRIL 4.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Harding wants Congress to meet as soon as possible after April 4 and get needed legislation through without delay. It was learned today why he wants to get through with the legislation before the middle of July. He is planning to visit Alaska and the Northwest cities,
including Portland, Tacoma and Seattle, and on his return trip will possibly visit Los Angeles and San Francisco if his presence in Washington is not absolutely necessary.

In his conferences with Senators and House leaders he has been impressing on the men with whom he talked the necessity of prompt action in connection with the legislative program and has been particularly anxious that hearings and other preliminaries on the tariff and internal revenue tax laws revision
be expedited before the extra session is called.

If the rather comprehensive plan
for legislation can be gotten through the President would like to start on an inspection trip to Alaska about the middle of July. It does not seem possible to the leaders of the Senate and House that such speedy legislation can be secured with the best interests of the public safeguarded,
and most of those now in Washington think the session will last through the summer. Nevertheless, President Harding has set his heart on the visit to Alaska this summer if it can be properly accomplished and he has enlisted the support of many of the leaders in both houses to this plan.

was conveyed to the Chamber of Deputies and later was taken to the San Isidro Cemetery.

Senator Dato left his fortune of 2,000,000 pesetas to his wife and three daughters.

"BRANCHES" That Are COMPLETE BANKS

The Security Trust & Savings Bank has
three "branch offices" all in the city of Los Angeles.

The MAIN BANK, at Fifth and Spring, is at the recognized center of the downtown business world of Los Angeles.

The WEST SEVENTH STREET BRANCH, at Seventh and Grand, is convenient to the financial and shopping districts,
out of the extreme congestion, and where parking regulations
are less onerous.

The HOLLYWOOD BRANCH, at Hollywood Boulevard and Cahuenga avenue, is the leading financial institution of all the north and west part of the city.

The EQUITABLE BRANCH, at First and Spring, serves the north end of the business district.

Each branch is in itself a complete bank, in charge of a manager, or a vice-president. With the management of each branch is lodged the necessary authority and discretion not only to pay the checks and receive the deposits of the customers who do business at that branch, but to extend credit accommodations to commercial customers, receive applications for mortgage loans, and do a general banking business, always, as at the Main Bank, subject to the decisions of the loan committee and the directors.

Through its branches the Security Bank is thus able to extend to various parts of the community the advantage of its own strength, stability and loaning power. The region in which a branch is placed is therefore the gainer
by having a local bank, interested and concerned in the development of that locality, but with greater ability to serve its vicinity than if it were a separate bank.

LIBERTY BONDS TAKEN AT PAR.

Will be Traded for Bricks in Home Fund Drive.

Many Communities Rally to Aid Disabled Veterans.

City and Federal Officials Back Brisk Campaign.

From the headquarters of the Council of Community Service, acting as campaign committee, it is announced that Liberty Bonds will be received at par as subscriptions toward the fund of $200,000, which is being raised for the immediate purchase and maintenance of a home for the disabled veterans of the World War.

One of the first of the patriotic citizens to change a government bond for a $50 bronze souvenir brick in behalf of the fund, was Mrs. R. C. Carson. The list of bronze and silver brick purchasers is growing each day, although this phase of the campaign was not officially launched until yesterday, which opened the second week.

Campaign activities for the rest of this year are centered upon the securing of contributions in the larger sums, for while the public has responded generously in its purchase of the $1, $2 and $10 souvenir bricks, the success of the campaign must depend upon the large subscriptions for which the bronze bricks at $50, the silver-plated at $100 and the gold-plated at $500 are given as souvenirs. Each brick bears an appropriate inscription.

AT CROWN CITY.

Pasadena will hold her first mass meeting in the interests of the campaign Sunday night, when Rupert Hughes will be the featured speaker on a program, which will include Capt. Falmour and Lieut. Robbie Bartley, the ace who has a record of not only fifty-seven Hun planes, but of nearly as many serious wounds. The Pasadena rally will be held in the First Presbyterian Church.

In the Federal Building an active campaign has been started under the direction of Postmaster Brown. The Board of Public Works yesterday arranged to participate in the campaign through the appointment of a representative in each department, who shall be empowered to take subscriptions within his individual department. Thomas H. Murchison has been selected to represent the City Engineer, the Chief Inspector of Buildings, the Chief Inspector of the bureau of assessments, City Electrician, chief estimator on the City Hall exchange and the chief janitor.

The W.C.T.U., headed by Mrs. Fred Wheeler, president of the city federation, who has enlisted as an active worker, is lending an enthusiastic co-operation in the campaign.

INGLEWOOD WOMEN AID.

In Inglewood the Woman's Club, in co-operation with the G.A.R. life and drum corps, and the cinema theaters, is staging an active campaign.

The South Side Ethel, the Woman's Club, the Eagle Rock Woman's Twentieth Century Club and the Y.W.C.A. are among the clubs and organizations, which yesterday turned in reports of special activities in behalf of the fund.

A community meeting was held Wednesday evening at the Beverly Hills Hotel and was followed yesterday afternoon and evening by additional meetings for the taking of subscriptions and selling of bricks. Last night another big patriotic gathering was held at the Raymond Hotel in Pasadena.

Saturday and Sunday a special meeting will be held at Sunset Inn, under the direction of Mrs. Vercoe. Programmed ahead are many benefits and big entertainments, including a mammoth vaudeville, an affair to be given under the auspices of the Ethel Club, and a special performance of "Letting Live" to be presented at the New Symphony Theatre next Thursday morning under the auspices of the League of American Pen Women. Preceding the picture showing there will be featured a number of other events.

Subscriptions may be sent to the Disabled Veterans Home Fund, care of the Council of Community Service, 215 Coulter Building.

ASKS THAT HE BE KICKED OUT.

Attorney Wants Disbarment Made Unanimous Request Is Granted.

S. A. D. Gray, an attorney of this city, made an unusual motion in U.S. Dist. Judge Trippett's court yesterday.

Mr. Gray said that Superior Judge Monroe had decided earlier in the day that he was a bad man, and his name had been stricken from the roll of attorneys practicing at the State bar. He thought it might be well to make it unanimous, and requested the court that his name be removed from the list of attorneys entitled to practice in the local Federal court.

"The order is granted," said Judge Trippett, with a wink. "Are there any other attorneys desirous of making a similar motion?"

The order disbaring Mr. Gray in the Superior Court followed an accusation of the Los Angeles Bar Association that he was guilty of unethical conduct in having opened negotiations with the husband and wife of a client, who had been divorced, and then brought by the wife whom he represented.

TRAINER FALLS INTO ARMS OF HUGE BEAR.

BRUN THINKS IT IS FINE WRESTLING MATCH AND DOWNS OPPONENT.

Barney, a big, good-natured bear at Uncle Mose Loewenstein's carnival in Praeger Park, gave Bruce Gordon, a new trainer, a merry ten-minute wrestling match yesterday afternoon that was not on the program. Gordon, who is not much of a wrestler, was exhausted when he fell into the bear's arms. He fell right into the bear's arms. Barney thought it was all a part of the routine and that the time had come for him to do the most natural thing in the world for a bear to do—wrestle. He hugged Gordon, and the two struggled around the arena. Gordon could not get away. Finally, he fell with the bear on top. Then he called lustily for Bennett, his resident, Tom Mix and Charlie Chaplin, the cinema stars, are expected at the carnival tonight, when they will take part in raising the fund to give 50,000 children a May Day outing.

MYSTIC HUNCH FAILS TO PAY.

Man on Trial Says Telepathy Advised Writing Checks.

Thought Supernatural Agency Would Make Good.

Declares Spirits Have Given Pointers for Years.

When E. O. Baker took the stand yesterday in his own defense in Justice Hootch's court, he surprised the court and Dep. Dist. Atty. Costello by admitting passing two fictitious checks on a local sporting goods store, but added that he felt morally justified.

He said he had studied telepathy and kindred subjects in a local night school and had been in communication with the mystics for two years. He said he was advised by the mystics to write checks and cash them and he thought the same mysterious spirits would make the checks good.

Constable Stensland testified that when he arrested the defendant, Baker said the mystics had provided him with food and clothing for two years. Then he asked the officer for a loan of a dollar.

"Ask the mystics for that, too," replied the officer.

Baker was held to answer for passing checks for $121 and $21. Bail was fixed at $2500. He is said to have passed fifteen such checks.

CREAM CLEARS A STUFFED-UP HEAD.

Instantly Opens Every Air Passage—Clears Throat Too.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief.

Try this. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more yawning or snuffling. Count fifty. All the stiffness, dryness, struggling for breath is gone. You feel fine.—(Advertisement.)

Anna Case

—the glorious

An artist of talents supreme. Her glorious soprano voice is the delight of the American operatic stage and concert platform. She has been instrumental in revealing to music-lovers new beauties in their favorite songs.

And an artist of surpassing beauty. Hear her!

Saturday Afternoon—Philharmonic Auditorium

Some artists are great of voice. Others are merely great of stage performance. To judge how truly great is Anna Case, hear her outside of her physical presence. Hear her voice as it is literally RE-CREATED by the New Edison. Only then will you be able to appreciate fully its sublime beauty. It is actually true that music lovers have heard Case compare her voice with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of that voice, and could distinguish no difference.

FAKE OFFICER GETS BIG FINE.

Pasadena Judge Assesses Penalty for Extortion.

School Authorities Plan to Enforce Law.

Crown City Raises Property Valuation.

PASADENA, March 10.—Edward Lemke of Altadena was today fined $500 and given a suspended jail sentence of six months by Judge Raymond G. Thompson in justice court for impersonating an officer and extorting "hush money" from sponsors along the Altadena boulevards.

He was convicted of this offense on a complaint lodged by Homer Palmer, who gave the pseudo officer all his change, $4.61. Lemke says he will appeal the case. His lawyers contested the charge on the trial and Lemke maintained his innocence, saying he merely warned people away from a new house being built in Altadena and from which building materials were missed.

DRIVE ON SCHOOL SLACKERS. Pasadena school officials are planning a drive to round up school slackers, that is to say, youths and maids not in the regular classes in the schools and who have failed to report at the part-time classes provided under the new part-time education law.

Only seven are fully complying with the law by attending the classes, according to a report just made by Superintendent F. W. West. W. H. Holland, the enforcing officer. The rest of the eligibles have attended one or two of the classes, or none at all.

Preparatory to the round-up of tardy ones, the school officials have issued an appeal to parents and employers to co-operate in fulfilling the purposes of the law, and warning them against failure to do so. It is said that most of the youths who come within the purview of the law are soda fountain attendants.

CITY'S VALUATION UP. The assessed valuation of Pasadena for the fiscal year 1921-22 will total $20,000,000, an increase of $4,000,000 over the previous years, according to estimates by Deputy City Controller G. H. Wood and Deputy Assessor F. A. Chesire. A reason for part of the increase is the annexation of several blocks of Lamanda Park to the municipality of Pasadena the present year.

GOLF COURSE URGED. Pasadena has established a municipal golf course as soon as possible, declared E. K. Roloff of Chicago, a prominent Chicago banker who has just purchased a winter home on Bellefontaine street, here. He declares that Pasadena, being a resort city, should have been among the first to establish such a course. He is the former president of the First National and First Trust and Savings banks of Chicago.

RANDALL AS EDITOR. Former Congressman Charles H. Randall is to edit a prohibition paper in Pasadena, Los Angeles or Long Beach, according to his friends here. Before he went to Congress Mr. Randall conducted the Highland Park News, but failed that publication. His friends say that Randall has refused several offers to go into business because of his desire to re-enter the newspaper field.

The Pasadena Spring Flower Show will be held on April 7, 8 and 9, according to announcements from the Pasadena Horticultural Association, which annually is the sponsor for the exhibition. The Pasadena Chamber of Commerce is co-operating in the show this year.

Mexican Love Story May Have Fatal Ending.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 10.—Around a pretty Mexican girl today centered a story of the courtship of three men, the victory of one man in winning the affections of the girl, and an alleged attempt on the part of the two vanquished suitors to murder the other man. Two men are under arrest on a charge of attempting to murder the man who won the heart of the girl in the case.

The man who nearly paid with his life the price of winning the girl's affections is Pablo Escudero, of San Pedro. He told the police he was lured to a lonely canyon in the Palos Verdes hills by the pair under the pretext that they wanted him to interpret for them in a sheep feed. Upon reaching the canyon, Escudero claims one of the men drew a revolver and fired a shot at him at close range. The bullet passed between his arm and his body, cutting through his coat sleeve in two places.

In the Marathon that followed, Escudero outdistanced the other two men, and swore out a warrant for their arrest. He named Yacaro Mendez and Maximiano Reyes as his assailants, and Mendez and Reyes were taken into custody today. They are held without bail and will be arraigned before Justice Hanby tomorrow. Both denied having sought the life of Escudero.

OFFICERS ARREST. YOUTHFUL BANDITS.

BOYS CONFESS TO ROBBERY TAXI DRIVER IN LONE MOUNTAIN CANYON.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SAN BERNARDINO, March 10.—Roy Sanford, age 23, and Albert G. Wilson, age 19, confessed this afternoon following their arrest by Constable A. B. Ward of Yucaipa, that they beat and robbed Sam G. Taylor, taxi driver of San Bernardino, late last night near Verdmont, in the Cajon Pass. They are in the County Jail.

Taylor was engaged by the two to drive them to the pass last night and at Verdmont they attacked him as he stopped the car, beat him over the head with a bottle, robbed him of $57 and valuables and left him bound and unconscious on the railroad tracks. Taylor revived in time to save himself from being struck by a train and sought help. The bandits had part of the money buying clothes, and they were arrested in a blacksmith shop in Yucaipa as they were changing their garments.

FOOLED THE YEGGS.

Pomona Man Saves Money by Obeying Impulse.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) POMONA, March 10.—C. M. Benjamin, 739 North Garey avenue, reported to the police last night that he had been held up by highwaymen on North Garey avenue, near Hart street.

According to his story, he was on his way home, when he noticed a machine standing at the curb and two men sitting in the car. He accented a hold-up and hastily slipped about $50 in money that he had on his person into his handkerchief, tied it up and threw the improvised wallet into the branches of a tree. He said the men held him up when he approached the machine, but let him go when they found nothing on him.

Officer Jennings assisted Benjamin in finding the handkerchief in the branches of the tree.

LEPER GIVES TROUBLE.

Riverside Authorities to Deport Patient.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) RIVERSIDE, March 10.—How to rid the county of a leper patient, who escaped some time ago from Stanislaus county, is a problem that is confronting county officials. The patient, P. McNutt, was located about thirty-five miles southeast of this city, after word was received from the Stanislaus county authorities that he was believed to have come into this county.

Although the health authorities of the northern county are reported to be reluctant to take McNutt back, the local officials insist that he must be received by them. The patient himself is averse to returning to Stanislaus county, and is said to have declared that he will not go back alive.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

THE REAL BEAUTY CULTURE.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The other day a woman killed herself because she had lost her good looks. She had been a noted beauty, but ill health and grief of the death of her child and the approach of middle age had robbed her of her pulchritude, and she ended her life because it was unbearable to her when she was despoiled of her physical charms.

A pitiful and paltry tragedy, this. Yet perhaps there is no more bitter ordeal than the one the beauty endures who sees her good looks fade. She knows the agony of gazing into her mirror and watching the gold of her hair turn to silver, the roses die out of her cheeks, the light fade from her eyes, the grayness and the wrinkles creep into her skin, the slenderness of her form change into stoutness or fat.

It is as if one watched oneself slowly dying, for to the woman the charms are dissolving that gave her life. No more will she be a queen in her little world, no more will she see a tribute of admiration in every eye. No more will she be courted and flattered and sought after. Perhaps she will even no longer be able to hold the love she has won by her beauty, for with her good looks gone, her wand of enchantment is broken.

The pretty woman's beauty is generally all the stock she has on her shelves, and when it is gone, all is gone. She is bankrupt. That is why women hang on so frantically to the last vestige of their good looks, why they dye their hair, and paint their cheeks, and try to camouflage their fortunes on salves and unguents and hair victims to any charlatan who pretends that he can restore their youth and beauty.

Such a miracle is, alas, impossible. No mortal hand can ward off the ravages of sickness, or anxiety, or the passage of the years that take their inevitable toll of a woman's looks. Age and the fading of her physical charms are bound to come to every woman and then her beauty depends upon the kind of soul she has.

It is strange that women do not think of this often, and realize that if they spent half as much time, and effort, and money, in cultivating an inward beauty, as they do in vainly trying to keep their outward beauty, they would have no reason to fear age, for they would achieve an imperishable charm.

Suppose, for instance, a woman spent as much time cultivating the inside of her head as she does the cranky places in their disposition as they do in rubbing cold cream on their countenances. How much more profitable the results would be. After all, a wrinkle in your cheeks isn't so disfiguring as a wrinkle in your character.

There are thousands of women who live in fear that they will lose their husband's love when they lose their good looks, and so they spend their time and money in beauty parlors, and are boiled, and fried, and stewed in oil, and massaged, and kneaded to a pulp, trying to ward off the telltale lines with which time stamps a woman's face, and in vain.

But they could get results if they gave the same amount of energy and effort to cultivating sweetness of spirit, for life is a faithful scribe, and it stamps goodness, and kindness, and gentleness on a woman's face, just as surely as it does temper, and irritability, and discontent.

Maybe a young man just looks for color and contour in a girl's face, but an old husband looks for something else, and no one's wife just gets dumber, and sweeter every year, and more suave and easy to live with, ever since she has lost her beauty. She looks better to him every time he looks at her.

And suppose a woman devoted as much time and self-denial to reducing her figure, as she does to reducing her spirit. Suppose she made as great an effort to get back the attitude she took toward her husband before marriage as she does to regaining her girlish figure, wouldn't there be something doing.

Oh, my, I should say, yes. After all, what does a middle-aged man care whether his middle-aged wife weighs a few pounds more or less? Nothing. A man has got to be tied to a woman by something stronger than a corset string if he holds him. What counts with him is a peaceful home, and an easy-going, reasonable wife, who can get his point of view on things, and who is willing to second his ideas, and who is willing to devote time and attention to cultivating their minds and souls. That's where they will get the lasting results that pay.

Of course, it's all right for women to take care of their beauty and make themselves as good looking as they can. But if they want to get action, let them devote time and attention to cultivating their minds and souls. That's where they will get the lasting results that pay.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

LISTENS GOOD.

ALTA LOMA, March 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The following is from The Times of Feb. 27, 1931.

"Some of these days a clever cook will concoct an orange pie. Everything else has been made from the fruit."

It does not seem possible that The Times should be ignorant of one of the many uses of Southern California's own golden fruit. For those who have missed this delicious orange pie, permit me to submit the following as given by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange in "Sun-kist Recipes."

GASOLINE ALLEY—GOOD-BY—AND DON'T HURRY BACK

One cup sugar, 1-3 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, grated rind of 1 Sun-kist orange, 1 cup Sun-kist orange juice, juice of 1/2 Sun-kist lemon, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 egg yolks. Mix sugar, flour, salt and grated rind, add fruit juice and cook in double boiler ten minutes, stirring until thickened, and afterward, occasionally. Add butter and egg yolks beaten on high, cook two minutes, and cool. Have crust ready and cover with a meringue made of three egg whites and one-half cup powdered sugar with a teaspoonful of orange juice. Brown in a moderate oven.

This is only one of several hundred healthful and delicious ways of using the California orange.

Q. BOYDE ELDER.

BOASTS HIS OWN.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Allow me to applaud your editorial in recent Times, in which you state that the big spectacle motion picture "can hardly be said to do the picture industry any good."

The spectacle picture is dead. There is no doubt about it. The short-sighted, director-producer, who has been squandering his all in an orgy of stupendous failures, straight in the face. Quietly, slowly, but firmly, the public has brought home the fact that they do not want obedient slaves. They want originality. It does not seem possible that The Times should be ignorant of one of

LIBEL SUITS FOLLOW ROW AT MEETING.

Lake View No. 2 Oil Stockholders Sue E. W. Stiles; Ask Balm of $150,000.

E. W. Stiles of the Lake View No. 2 Oil Company was named defendant yesterday in three suits charging libel and demanding in the aggregate $150,000 damages, filed by D. W. Wickersham, Floyd G. White and Dr. Clarence H. White, for purported malicious and defamatory statements issued in a circular letter to the stockholders, dated Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 16, 1920.

It is set out in the circular that some of the essential matters upon which six directors worked were opposed by the Whites, and Mr. Wickersham "who have used every obstructive measure within their power to prevent the majority of the board from protecting the interests of the stockholders."

The plaintiffs assert that the purpose of the circular was to gain control of the corporation, and that the statements imply that they violated the trust imposed in them as stockholders.

It is understood there was a stormy session Wednesday at the annual meeting, held in this city.

JUROR IS FINED FOR FAILING TO SHOW UP.

Reeve H. Darling, who was summoned as a juror in Judge Hester's department, was fined $25 for contempt yesterday, for failing to appear. When he did arrive, he told the court that he was sick. The fine was paid.

SEWER EXPERTS PICKED.

Following a conference of some length yesterday, the Health and Sanitation Committee of the City Council reached the conclusion that it will today recommend that the Council appoint as a special committee on the outfall sewer problem, William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Public Service Department, and George C. Whipple and George W. Fuller, both of New York City.

Mr. Mulholland attended the conference and suggested the names of Messrs. Fuller and Whipple after a long list of reputable engineers from various parts of the country had been read and considered by the Health and Sanitation Committee. Mr. Fuller is a sanitary and hydraulic engineer and has been connected with the establishment of filtration plants in Washington, Baltimore, New York and other large cities.

The committee will ask the Council to create the special committee with full authority to make a study of the problem of sewage disposal and submit a report as to the most desirable methods to be followed here. No decision has been reached yet as to the amount to be paid the eastern men for their services.

Found a Cure for Constipation.
"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly 51 years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to now," writes George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ark. These tablets contain no poison, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally. [Advertisement.]

The Ohio Electric is the Vacuum Cleaner to Buy

because—

It cleans without scattering dust. It picks up lint, threads, hair, etc., without injuring the rug.

It saves moving heavy furniture. It cleans in corners.

It has attachments for cleaning everything. It is very light in weight.

It starts and stops by merely tilting the handle. No stooping, consequently no backaches.

The Ohio, while as attractive, if not more attractive electric vacuum cleaner on the market, is also one of the lightest weight electric vacuum cleaners.

It cleans by the irresistible force of pure, fresh air ALONE. True, it is not a motor-driven vacuum, but the brush in the Ohio serves to pick up threads, etc.—the air does the cleaning.

We couldn't make a vacuum cleaner of an electric vacuum cleaner than the Ohio.

Tender Gums —A Warning

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty, also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

NEW TWISTS TO PICKFORD SUIT.

Film Star's Lawyer Acts as Judge Faces Trial.

Denies Lawfulness of Action to Set Aside Decree.

Jurist Who Granted Divorce is Called Dilatory.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
MINDEN (Nev.) March 10.—Re-assertion that Leonard B. Fowler, Attorney-General of Nevada, had no authority under the State laws to bring his recent action to set aside a divorce granted here to Mary Pickford from Owen Moore, was made here today in a brief filed by Miss Pickford's attorney, Garvin McNab, of San Francisco. Miss Pickford, who is now Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, and Mr. Moore are motion-picture stars.

"If the people wish the Attorney-General to represent them in divorce cases, they would wish him to represent them in all divorce cases because the law of the people must have uniform operation, the brief said. 'Surely they would not leave it to the Attorney-General to represent them in only one divorce proceeding merely because one of the parties happened to be conspicuous. They would not allow him, in defiance of precedent and at variance with American principles to say, like the celebrated king, 'The State! I am the State' which he is attempting to do in this case. The Attorney-General seems to be suffering from a confusion of ideas in which he does not perceive the distinction between exercising delegated powers as a servant of the State and being the State itself."

Miss Pickford's attorney contended in the brief that the Attorney-General's office, after an investigation of sixty days, failed to disclose a single case which might serve as a precedent for the action against the decree granted the picture stars.

"The Attorney-General," the brief said, "has failed to disclose anything in the Nevada laws countenancing the theory now advanced for the first time, that the Attorney-General has the right of review in all divorce cases."

Mr. McNab contended that the State was represented at the trial by the court and that the court's action in granting the decree was conclusive and final.

The Attorney-General's brief, according to Mr. McNab, said he cannot say that a foreign State may invade our precincts to pervert or to nullify the acts and records of our own government.

In answer the defense said, "We fail to comprehend or appreciate the significance of this statement, nor can we understand how, in the case of Moore vs. Moore, any 'foreign State' invaded Nevada. Furthermore we cannot appreciate how the Attorney-General claims that the litigants in this case invaded Nevada to nullify its acts or records. The filing of the Moore divorce case was in strict accordance with the Nevada laws."

TAKING NO CHANCE.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Removal proceedings against Judge Frank P. Langham, who heard the Pickford-Moore action, was given today by Garvin McNab, defense attorney, as the reason why his second brief in the Mary Pickford divorce case was filed as it was.

March 15, the date formerly announced.

"We believed that we should take no chance with interruption," McNab said. "By filing the brief today we feel certain that the court can consider it, no matter what the outcome of the removal proceedings. Our only idea is to have as quick and undisturbed judgment of the case as possible."

Mr. McNab's first brief, filed at Minden, November 27, was in answer to the complaint of the Attorney-General that Miss Pickford's divorce was irregular and should be nullified. The Attorney-General answered this and today's brief attacks the last answer.

WOULD OUST JUDGE.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
CARSON CITY (Nev.) March 10. Judge Frank P. Langham of Carson City, was placed on trial today before the joint session of the Nevada Legislature to see if an action should be removed from office. He was charged with having failed to render decisions in the case of Moore vs. Moore, and with failing to demand periodic accounting from the receiver of the State Bank and Trust Company.

Atty.-Gen. Fowler appeared as prosecutor. Judge Langham entered a general denial and his counsel intimated that if proven, the charges would not constitute cause of removal.

Evidence regarding two cases in which the judge was said to have been dilatory in rendering decisions was presented, and it was shown the findings had been placed before him only a month ago.

RAILWAYS MAY ENTER MERGER.

corporation, which also owns the western end of the Rock Island. It is stated that the recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has been making an exhaustive study of the field, will cover such a merger with economy of operation in view. The body has had men surveying the situation throughout the country, and will make its announcement soon concerning certain combinations of railroads. It is understood that the report will recommend that, in case of zoning various lines, the Southern Pacific, Rock Island and El Paso and Southwestern be combined.

Mr. Amster, who left the Alexandria for Del Monte yesterday, will return to his home in Boston in the latter part of this month. Shortly thereafter a meeting of the directors of the Rock Island will be held, and the subject of consolidation will probably be considered.

TWO TERMS IN PRISON FOR HANDLING LOOT.

Glen Mesquit, said to have been a fence for the members of the so-called Butcher burglary gang, was yesterday sentenced to San Quentin for from two to ten years by Judge Reeve, being in reality two sentences of from one to five years each. Mesquit was found guilty on two counts of receiving property which members of the gang are said to have stolen. His sentences are to run consecutively. Several other members of the gang are now in San Quentin.

Over Governorship of Lower California.
to be Walchward,
First Statement.
Called by Obregon to Head Commission.
March 10.—Epig-
nate of the executive Lower California government was notable for the
of the formality with which Yarra arrived at the executive of the government he
with a cordial welcome by governor, and only the
of signing a few documents to each man marked the
of authority.
Governor will leave
for Mexico City, having a telegram from President Wilson stating that he has
in charge of an important mission. No details of the mission were given, but it is believed that he will be in the work of conservation of the waters of the Colorado River. His ability and his familiarity
with conditions in the territory
is a big asset to the government.
The governor will be the head of the new administration to Gov. Yarra's interest in the heads of departments were called into conference after he took over his duties. He stated that every one of the departments will be reviewed and the tenure of office of all is determined solely by his ability.
There is no place in his mind, he said, and will be leaving whatever on the change to be made
staff of the district
to Louis Rodriguez by Arthur, Secretary of State

Declares War on All Political Idlers.

Gov. Ybarra of the Northern District of Lower California.

Terrazas will be retained indefinitely. It is said, because of the efficient manner in which he has filled the office.

by the board of directors. The urgent need for immediate activity
on the part of such a corporation
in enabling foreign countries to secure American products through long-time credits is to be emphasized
in the letter.
The personnel of the four committees follows:
Banking Committee: Henry M.

National Bank and the Los Angeles

ers, president Citizens' National

FAREWELL TO LINEBERGER.

Congressman Lineberger of Long Beach, who left yesterday morning for Washington, where he will represent the Ninth Congressional District in the lower house, was the guest of the Union League Club
of Los Angeles Wednesday evening at a dinner given to more than 150 of his strongest supporters in the district. The new Congressman was accorded a farewell
which carried with it the promise of united co-operation from representatives of the Republican County and State Central committees and old and tried pioneers of the G.O.P.
in Southern California.
Responding to the many farewell
speeches, Congressman Lineberger,
who was accompanied by his wife,
declared that he felt that he is going to Washington with the hearty support of the entire Ninth Congressional District.
"I do not consider it so much a personal honor," he said, "as I do a victory for Republicanism. I believe that the support I had from Democrats of the district was given me because I was backing up principles of Republicanism. It is with a deep feeling of responsibility and a full conception of my duties that I now go forth as your standard-bearer to accomplish, to the best of my ability, those things which the people who have elected me have a right to expect of their representative in the nation's Congress."
Judge Weller presided as toastmaster, and, as president of the Union League Club, extended the hearty wishes of the organization
for the new Congressman's success
in Washington. Henry P. Barbour,

Bringing Home the Family Choice—

WHEN mother phoned dad, she told him to bring home a loaf of "HOLSUM" Bread. She mentioned it by name.

That's the only safe way to buy bread. Failure to specify what bread can easily deprive your family of vital nourishment.

The difference can easily make your child dull instead of smart—lacking in energy instead of full of it.

The most precious of all nourishing substances are vitamins. We are just beginning to understand them. We know they promote the growth of tissues, maintain vigorous health and fight disease. We know they are in fresh vegetables, grains, milk and butter. We know they are richly present in "HOLSUM" bread.

So start today to order your bread by name. Always say "HOLSUM" and see that you get it. It means abounding health and wholesomeness.

"HOLSUM" bread gets its vitamins from the rich materials used, but this is not all. Its baking is a precise art, following a scientific process that years of study and experience has perfected. Only in "HOLSUM" are you sure of getting the complete nourishment in bread that is so vital.

HOLSUM is delivered the same day as baked

Children at Day Nursery Now Lacking Both Necessities and Amusements.

Joy and carefree happiness are youth's heritage. And it is to bring sunshine into the hearts of about 100 children that the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery will conduct a two-day pencil sale on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, asking the general public to be liberal in its buying in order that the fund for the support of the nursery may be a generous one.

There are many things which the institution provides for these little kiddies left in its care each day while their widowed mothers are at work.

In the old-fashioned residence building at 135 North Anderson street, occupied by the nursery, the children are kept warm and comfortable; they are given the care of capable and kindly attendants; they are provided with nourishing food; and when there is need they are given clothing.

There are other things, though, which mean much to the kiddies—a healthful playground, a fine, big sand pile, tin buckets and shovels with which to dig, a swing, teeterboards and toys. These are also provided for the wee tots by the nursery—when there are enough funds to stretch beyond the actual necessities.

It has been three years since any appeal has been made to the general public to aid in the support of the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery, and for a long time the institution has been husbanding its funds—not to provide the playground mediums of happiness for the kiddies, but to make them meet the actual necessities.

Now it is essential that the leaky spots in the roof of the babies' sleeping-porch be repaired, that the plaster be restored to the ceiling in several of the rooms, and that other similar needs be met through the fund, which the public is asked to give by purchase of pencils, and there is a broken teeter-board out in the playground that needs repairing or replacing. The big swing is broken, and even rope costs money. And the sand pile, which once was so fine and big; many rains have washed it away.

Every pencil bought Tuesday and Wednesday will mean the contributing of something toward these many needs. Every 10 cents given to the fund will mean the bringing of at least one ray of happiness into the lives of these 100 babies.

The St. Elizabeth Day Nursery is strictly nonsectarian and its little patrons include babies of many nationalities and born to many creeds. The institution is entirely dependent upon the occasional pencil sale conducted under the auspices of its directors, for funds to augment the very small charges made to mothers who can afford to pay anything at all for their babies' daily care.

Headquarters for the campaign have been established on the mezzanine floor of Mullen & Bluet's. Officers who are directing the activities in connection with the pencil sale are Mrs. J. P. Farrell, president; Miss Marie Rose Mullen, Mrs. Lucien N. Brunwig and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, vice-presidents; Miss Eunice Ward, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. C. G. Bullis, assistant secretary.

"MIL, DEAR," ATE FROM CABANNE'S OWN PLATE.

MOTHER-IN-LAW OF CINEMA DIRECTOR TESTIFIES IN DIVORCE HEARING.

"He called her Mil, dear, and fed her from his own plate."

This statement was made by Mrs. Frances Clark, mother of Mrs. Viviane Cabanne, in Judge Walton J. Wood's court Wednesday, where Mrs. Cabanne sought a divorce from William Christy Cabanne, cinema director.

The woman referred to was named in the evidence as Millicent Fisher and Mr. Cabanne was very attentive to her. It appeared, even insisting that Miss Fisher stay at his home. He took her out riding and when she was sick, secured a trained nurse to the neglect of Mrs. Cabanne, the testimony showed.

Under a property settlement which the court will inquire into, continuing the trial until the 23rd inst. for Mr. Cabanne to be present, Mr. Cabanne agreed to pay his wife $200 a week for the support of herself and children; to set aside a certain amount to buy her a home; to pay her $5000 in cash if the decree is Mrs. Cabanne remarries.

FOUR HELD FOR TONG SLAYING.

First Round Won by State in Chinese Murder Case.

Though Ten Bing Kong Men Are Freed by Court.

Seven of Group Detained, but Later Released.

The first skirmish of the court fight which is an aftermath of the recent tong war in Chinatown was won by the prosecution yesterday, when four of the fourteen Bing Kong tong men accused of the murder of two Hop Sing Chinese were held to answer by Justice Brown. They were held for the killing of Soo Hoo Song, a Hop Sing man, but were cleared of a charge of murdering another tong man and assaulting a third. The other ten defendants were discharged.

Testimony adduced by Dep. Dist. Atty. Hill resulted in the holding of Tung Gow, Fong Ben, Louis Wing and Leung Wee Tong. Evidence was that Soo Hoo Song, a banker in a Chinese game, was pointed out by Tung Gow, that Fong Ben fired several shots, killing the first named, and that Leung Wee Tong fired several shots.

It was held by Paul Schenck, defense counsel, that no others were implicated. The ten who were discharged are Chew Quen, Soo Hoo Lee, Lock Sney, Lang Gun, Wong Wing, Quing Wong, Fong Ian, Loo Lee, Jung W. Juck and Louis Chung. Seven of the ten discharged in the murder case were held tempo-

Early at the County Jail for Federal authorities for possible deportation, but they obtained their release a second time after considerable maneuvering in which Attorney Schenck, Sheriff Traeger, Lieutenant of Detectives Shy, Chief Inspector of Immigration Burnett, Jailer Gallagher and Detective Sergeant Cline figured.

Mr. Schenck demanded the release of the seven Chinese on the ground that the county officials had no commitment papers for them. Lieut. Shy then declared he would hold them in the City Jail for the Federal authorities and assume any responsibility if the latter wished the Chinese detained. Inspector Burnett was consulted by the city and county officials and the release of the tongmen resulted, when Mr. Burnett asserted he had no desire to hold them.

CAR KILLS CHILD.

Little Boy at Play Struck Down by Automobile.

Sanford Farmer, 9 years of age, of 5205 West Washington street, was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon when he was struck down by an automobile driven by W. F. Derke of 1008 Ackland avenue, Ocean Park. The child was playing in front of his home at the time. The accident, the police say, was unavoidable.

Mr. Derke stated the boy darted directly in front of the automobile and was hurled to the pavement by the front fenders. One of the rear wheels passed over the child. Mr. Derke took the body to the office of Dr. H. M. McCarthy at 1827 Crenshaw Boulevard, and then it was removed to the Gates, Crane & Earl undertaking rooms in Hollywood.

SUES FOR TAR BATH.

Four-Year-Old Asks Damages from Two Men Owning Bucket.

A suit being tried in Judge Wellborn's court hinges upon a story of a small child and a bucket of hot tar. The boy, Paul Fox, 4 years old, fell into the hot tar, and now William Sutherland and E. H. Thorsen are defending the lad's suit for $1500 damages.

The tar was to be used on a tar paper roof. The defendants are declared to have been negligent in placing the bucket of hot tar where the boy could fall into it.

FOR HEALTH CENTER.
